At an investiture held in Edmonton on Wednesday, August 4, Maxwell R. Morrison of Vulcan was invested as an Officer of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (O.B.E.) by Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen of Alberta.

Former president of the Co-ordinating Council of Auxiliary War Services at Lethbridge, Mr. Morrison was named in the Dominion Day 1946, Canadian civil honors list for his war service work. During his residence in Lethbridge he took an active part in the Co-ordinating Council of Auxiliary War Services, as treasurer for one year and president for two and a half years. 50th Anniversary Former Residents

Well known former Vulcan residents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Daines celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at Vancouver, B. C. on July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Daines and family came to Canada from England in 1910 and first resided at Cardston. Mr. Daines served in the army during the First World War and at the end of the war moved with his family to Vulcan, where he was engaged in the shoe business.

In 1934 Mr. and Mrs. Daines moved to the coast and Mr. Daines was in the shoe business there until his retirement two years ago.

Mrs. D. W. Brooks of Vulcan is a daughter and there are two other daughters and two sons.

The Advocate joins with their many Vulcan friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Daines many more happy years of married life.

Flood Relief Fund At $372.00

Donations to this fund are being accepted at the Vulcan Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Guard Against Sawfly Damage

Reports of sawfly damage are now beginning to come in from parts of the district.

The appearance of white heads in the crop, particularly around the edges of the field, is generally a sign of sawfly damage and action should then be taken before further inroads are made.

Damage from this pest has not yet been extensive, according to reports.

We like the man who comes right out and says what he thinks — if he agrees with us.

Municipality Purchases New Gravel Crusher

A new gravel crusher has been purchased by the Municipal District of Vulcan and will be in use shortly.

Costing $25,000, the big machine is expected to pay for itself in about three years through the savings to the municipality on the cost of crushed gravel. Crushing and loading of gravel by private contractors has been costing the municipal district 75c per cubic yard and it is estimated that by operating their own crusher a saving of about 40 cents per yard will be effected. With municipal road crews using about 25,000 yd. of crushed rock each year the saving will be around $10,000 a year.

Foothills Health Unit Warns Against Polio

Infantile paralysis is spreading through the southern part of the province, and although there are as yet no cases within the Foothills District, it would be wise for everyone to take such precautions as are available to prevent the spread of the disease.

1. Public gatherings of all kinds should be avoided whenever possible, especially by children.

2. Adequate food and rest are essential. Resistance is diminished by over-exertion, fatigue, and debilitating operations, such as tonsillotomies, which may safely be left until a later date.

3. Great care should be taken in the preservation of food. Flies should be avoided at all costs, and any food which has been exposed to them should be discarded.

4. The disease starts with the common symptoms of cold or flu, and anyone with these would be wise to get in touch with their doctor and report any unusual symptoms.

The staff of the Foothills Health Unit would like to take this opportunity to urge every one to report any case of infectious disease of which they have knowledge, to our High River office. If you know of anyone with any infectious disease, please write, or phone High River No. 8, collect.

Attend Agricultural Convention in Eastern Canada

[Nanton News]

Among the delegates to the convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada which was held at the Ontario Agricultural college at Guelph was D. H. Galbraith of Bowness, a charter member of the Organization, formerly of Vulcan and Nanton. Mr. Galbraith was a graduate of the college and Mrs. Galbraith a graduate of Macdonald Institute which is affiliated with O. A. C. Mr. Galbraith especially backed the idea of holding over until next convention the Cook report because less than half of the 21 locals of the A.I.C. had reported in time for the convention.

The Cook report consists of several recommendations involving reorganization of the Dominion committees of the Department of Agriculture to give power to make grants-in-aid of research work at universities; the establishment of regional laboratories on university sites; provincial or regional committees to ensure co-ordination of federal and provincial expenditures; reorganization of experimental farm and science services and the formation of an Agricultural Research council functioning under the Privy Council for scientific and industrial research.

In connection with the convention and reunion of O.A.C. graduates, the Guelph Daily Mercury speaks of Mr. Galbraith and his wife as follows:

"Mr. Galbraith has been recollection of such familiar figures of half a century ago at the college, as Alec Drysdale, George E. Day, Melville Laughran, Manning Doherty and his old chief at the dairy school, Prof. Dean, his first

District Crops Reported Best In The Province

Clear, Warm Weather Is Big Need Now; Rye Being Swathed

"The best crop to be seen anywhere are right in this part of Alberta." So say those who have been travelling throughout Alberta and the other western provinces this past week. And it is a statement easy to believe, for everywhere in this district, south to Nobleford and east to Milo and Lomond, the crops stand tall and heavy.

Last week's three-inch rainfall, one of the best and most timely rains within recollection, was the crowning touch to a growing season that has seen sufficient, and at times almost an overabundance, of moisture. Whether they be wheat, rye or flax, crops are uniformly good throughout this area. Spring wheat is considered to be ten days to two weeks late, but heads are filling well. One of the best rye crops ever seen in this district is now falling before the swathe and good yields are anticipated.

The Reid Hill district will harvest a fine crop if all goes well. This district was heavily hit in last year's big hail storm and the better-than-average crop that is in sight will be compensation of sorts for last year's loss. Crops in the Milo district are reported to be the best in the province.

The wish now is for clear, warm weather. Favorable conditions would see the wheat harvest under way in three to four weeks time, it is estimated.

Plebiscite On Rural Power

Alberta's Social Credit government has announced that a plebiscite on rural electrification will be held in conjunction with the provincial general elections Aug. 17.

The Social Credit platform for the election said rural electrification has become a necessary part of a comprehensive program for farm and farm-home improvement.

The plebiscite will ask voters whether they prefer electrification by private companies or by the Alberta power commission.

Rural electrification was one of the most-debated issues at last winter's session of the provincial legislature and indications are it will be one of the major questions discussed by candidates in the election campaign.

Transferred To Calgary

Honoring Miss Jeanne Benoit, who has been transferred to the Calgary office of the Alberta Government Telephones, a farewell party was held at the home of Miss "Mickey" Raaschou on Thursday, July 29.

Guests present included Mrs. Carson McKay, Mrs. Jim Berg, Miss Rita Deal, Miss Regina Sparling, Miss Gladys Mainland, Miss Charlotte Smith and Miss Lorna Robson.

On behalf of the group, Miss Raaschou presented the guest of honor with a birthstone ring, for which Miss Benoit appropriately thanked her friends. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Muriel Berg.

experience at the O. A. C. having been a single-term at the Dairy school in 1898. He recalls going about Western Ontario farms that summer spraying mustard under the direction of the late Prof. Manning Doherty.

Upon getting the B.S.A. degree he became a homesteader in Alberta and still spends much time on that same farm home near Vulcan. Three years ago, however, due to blindness, he was obliged to retire, but his son, Douglas H. Jr., is carrying on and he too was a delegate to the A.I.C. gathering here.

At one of the sessions, father and son got special recognition from the chair. The new president, Dr. R. D. Sinclair, paid due tribute to Mr. Galbraith for his pioneer homesteading in Alberta along with his successful and honorable career as a specialist in wheat seed development and nine years'

Dr. A. D. Tompkins New Medical Practitioner Here

Dr. A. D. Tompkins of Cardston has taken over the general medical practice of Dr. C. A. Jamison and, with his wife and two children, has now taken up residence here.

Dr. Jamison, who purchased the practice from Dr. G. M. Carson two years ago, will take post-graduate work in bone surgery and with Mrs. Jamison and baby, left this week for Vancouver.

Dr. Tompkins is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario and served his internship at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver. In 1942 he enlisted in the army and received his commission as a captain in the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. He served at the St. James Street Military Hospital in Halifax before proceeding overseas. In England he was attached to No. 3 Canadian Armored Corps Reinforcement Unit and No. 4 Canadian General Hospital. He served in Holland with the 24th Field Ambulance and was later attached to the Cape Breton Highlanders and the Perth Regiment.

On his return from overseas in 1946 and discharge from the army, Dr. Tompkins practiced in Cardston in association with the Cardston Health Society, remaining in the southern town until moving to Vulcan this week.

In addition to his medical and surgical work in Cardston, Dr. Tompkins took an active part in the community affairs of the town. He was member of the Cardston Lions Club, an executive member of the Cardston Art and Music Association, a member of the Canadian Legion executive and president of the Cardston Rifle Club.

The Advocate joins the residents of Vulcan and district in extending a welcome to Dr. and Mrs. Tompkins and their family.

Local Resident's Mother Dies

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Adams, the mother of Mrs. Annie Hyslip of Vulcan, died at Grenfell, Sask., on July 12. Mrs. Adams was known to many residents of this district, having been a visitor here at the home of her daughter in 1928, and the sympathy of her many friends is extended to Mrs. Hyslip in her loss.

The following obituary is from the Grenfell Sun.

Sarah Adams

Beside her husband, in Broadview Cemetery, the late Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Adams found a peaceful resting place from her sufferings, and a long lingering illness.

Mrs. Adams passed away on July 12, at the Grenfell Union Hospital.

Funeral services were held from Grenfell United Church on Wednesday, July 14. Rev. Brooks officiating. Numerous floral tributes spoke of the very high esteem in which she was held in the community.

Sarah Elizabeth Adams was born in Co. Antrim, Ireland on October 26th, 1872. She was married there in 1888 to James Adams, who predeceased her in 1929. Coming to Canada in 1926 they first settled in Broadview, and after her husband's death, Mrs. Adams moved to Grenfell. She leaves two brothers and one sister in Ireland.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Andrew McAllister, of New York, Mrs. Frank Evans of Gundy, B.C., Mrs. Annie Hyslip, Vulcan, Alberta, Mrs. R. Veronely, Rouleau, Sask. Two sons, Hugh and William reside at Broadview. There are nineteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

service as a member of the provincial legislature up to the time that his constituency disappeared in a redistribution. He was also a member for four years of the Dominion government's seed Advisory Board.

Mrs. Galbraith expressed herself as having enjoyed to the full this privilege of once more contacting good old friends in the city of her birth, childhood, school and college days.

FLY SPRAYS FOR THE CATTLEMEN

Summertime is fly time. To the dairy farmer this means a loss in milk production, higher bacterial count and the spread of disease. To the beef stockman this means poorer returns per acre of pasture. Fortunately, the advent of DDT has given farmers the most effective and economical control of flies to practically eliminate them from barns and cattle.

The British government has asked Canada's participation in a food growing plan to cope with a threatened world food shortage within the next 10 years.

Independent Platform

1. The Independent movement is non-partisan to the extent that it does not admit either the necessity or the desirability of maintaining a provincial regimentation similar to that which obtains in the Dominion field.

2. It was developed as a protectionist Movement to guard the interests and rights of property owners, taxpayers, and citizens in general with the slogan, "Province before Party".

3. It recognizes agriculture as the basic industry of the province, and deplores the meagre share of each spendable dollar which this industry now receives—one of the smallest in the Dominion. With this in mind, it pledges itself to a more equitable distribution of public expenditures.

4. It believes that Education in a democracy is one of the most important of public services, and that everything possible should be done to see that this service is fully rendered. This implies that every child with the ability to learn should have the fullest opportunity to do so. In accordance with this belief, a greater share of the cost of Education must be borne by the government, thus easing the burden of taxes on land and real property.

5. In view of the unsatisfactory condition of many provincial roads, it believes that this phase of public works should be removed entirely from political control, and that a non-partisan group of experts should be employed to make a thorough study of our road problems.

6. It believes that a greater share of gasoline, fuel oil taxes, and car and truck license fees, should be given to the municipalities by way of grants to assist in the building of rural roads.

7. It favors the aggressive development of our natural resources in the best interests of all the people within the province, with every consideration being shown the owners of surface rights in oil development.

8. In these times, it considers the subject of Youth so important as to justify the creation of a special department of the provincial government, under the direction of a cabinet minister of "Youth and Child Welfare," to coordinate all government and community activities in the development and guidance of our young people.

9. It believes that the problem of juvenile delinquency should be given constructive consideration along the following lines:

(a) That juvenile court judges in urban centres should be paid an adequate stipend by the province;

(b) That adequate and properly supervised detention homes should be provided;

(c) That provision should be made for advising and assisting juvenile delinquents and their parents or guardians;

(d) That a system of vocational training should be provided for delinquent children.

10. It believes that there should be a gradual reduction in taxation from wartime levels by practising the utmost economy in governmental spending. It advocates a complete survey of all governmental activities to the end that costs may be reduced, having regard at all times for the continuance of the necessary services we are expected to provide for the welfare of the people.

11. It believes that the senior government should accept the responsibility of such social services as health, child welfare, old age pensions, and mothers' allowances, thereby relieving our municipalities, both urban and rural, of those heavy charges which should not be a direct levy against real property.

12. It believes that there should be a definite and uniform Dominion labor policy. Under such a policy, both employers and employees should have the right to select their own form of bargaining organizations, without interference from any government authority, and that there must be no discrimination directed against any workman because of his membership in a legitimate trades union. It believes in compulsory arbitration of all industrial disputes, and that, in the appointment of policy-forming and fact-finding commissions, both employers and employees should have equal representation.

13. It favors more generous treatment of old age and blind pensioners, including the elimination from old age pension regulations of any restrictions of a pensioner's supplementary earnings. It pledges itself to work in harmony with the Old Age Pensioners' Society of Alberta in an effort to improve the lot of these unfortunate but deserving people.

14. It believes in the continuance of private enterprise and personal initiative in business, but not to the point where such ownership may result in monopolies and cartels. It believes, also, that the encouragement of co-operative activities should be a primary function of the provincial government.

15. It believes that there should be absolutely no political interference in the conduct of the Civil Service, and that in making appointments and promotions in the Service these should be made on the basis of merit and seniority, and in no case be given as a reward for political service.

16. It believes that there might well be a material reduction in the number of members in the Legislature, and, as a basis for discussion, suggests the election of two members (and certainly not more than three) for each area now constituting a Dominion riding, thus reducing the total membership to 34. In addition, it suggests that in the election of members to these two or three-member constituencies, the P. R. system should be applied.

17. It reaffirms its belief in the democratic form of government as we now have it in Canada, and in the democratic way of life for every individual. It believes that the Federal government (since it is elected in the same democratic way as is the provincial government) is entitled to the fullest co-operation of every provincial government in the working out of plans for the betterment of the Canadian people. It therefore pledges itself to work in the fullest harmony with whatever government may be in power at Ottawa.

Food and Rationing

Everybody in Canada is greatly interested in the food situation in England and many conflicting stories have been told. Here is what I found.

One of the most remarkable changes since I was here in 1942 is found in the shops. Where windows were absolutely bare in 1942, they are filled with merchandise of all kinds today. Stores which in 1942 were almost empty with large sections roped off, are groaning under the load of goods.

But here is the rub, these goods are most difficult to buy due to the mass of red-tape and restrictions, for rationing in England is a fearful thing to experience. English people are tied down by restrictions and bureaucratic rules and regulations to an unbelievable extent.

I confess that I cannot understand much of it, but I find that many people who have been here ever since before the war are just as puzzled as I am.

First thing on arrival at Blackpool my wife and I had to go to the central food control office to get our ration books, for one cannot get along without them.

It took us a whole morning to stand in line, get national registration cards, sign numbers of forms, most of which we knew nothing about, and finally receive books and coupons for meat, preserves, sugar, cheese, butter and fats, bacon, eggs, milk, clothing, bread, tea, soaps, points for cereals, canned goods, sweets, and several other things.

The clerical work in filling out forms, cutting off expired portions, etc., is tremendous. There must be an enormous waste of manpower over this rationing for there are offices with large staffs in all except the smallest places.

In addition there is fuel, control, gasoline control, building control, rent control, etc.

Once the ration books are received the newcomer may think he can start out to buy things. What a hope! You can only buy meat, milk, butter, eggs, bacon, sugar, jam, cheese, etc., at a store where you have registered, and it is difficult to change registration from one store to another.

Thus you have to take whatever your merchant cares to give you, or what he has on hand, and go to another store without a good reason and going through much red tape. Therefore if you think your butcher is not giving you fair treatment, about the only way you can improve matters is by trying to curry favour with him.

There are some few things that are neither rationed nor sold on points, such as fish, fresh vegetables and a few tinned articles such as fish and meat pastes, soups, etc., but in many cases the store has a sign over them reading "Reserved for our regular customers."

Although there is plenty of tinned foods in the stores, no one can buy much of it for each person only receives 28 points a month and 28 points will only buy a very little. Here is what is needed in points on some common items, salmon 32 points a tin; sardines 2 points a tin; fruit cocktail 20 points a tin; peas 5 points a can; beans 12 points a can; soda biscuits (or cream crackers as they are called) 4 pts. a pound; chocolate biscuits 16 pts. a lb. plain biscuits, 4 points a lb.; jelly powder, 4 points a package and other things in proportion, so that the purchaser seriously studies just how he will use the slim allotment of points that he is given.

Bread and cake are sold on "bread unit" points, and 36 a month is allowed each person. A loaf of bread requires 4 "BU's" and the loaves look pretty small to a Canadian.

Where chickens are kept, the egg rations for every member of the family must be surrendered and two pounds of chicken meal is allowed for each person's egg rations, so even the chickens have to go short.

On sweets, the ration is 12 oz. a month with an occasional increase to 16 oz. One lady told me that she had saved up her sweets coupons in order to buy a couple of pounds of candies for her daughter who was returning to boarding school, only to find that the coupons had expired the previous Saturday. She told me "I was ready to sit down and cry."

It is with fuel that the people really suffer. The first two weeks after we arrived, it was quite cold with frost nearly every night. The English houses have a real chill in them, and the people huddle around a tiny grate fire. The fuel allowance in the north is 5,600 pounds a year and in the south 3,808 pounds.

The English homes have a real chill even in late spring and must be pretty grim in midwinter. Electricity and gas are also in very short supply.

Gasoline is supposed to be so severely rationed that only essential driving can be done. The gasoline rationing has been the most difficult to enforce and there is a remarkably large number of cars on the streets and roads which seem to prove that there is considerable disregard of the regulations.

Tourists are supposed to receive special consideration, but we found there is a catch to that also. To get this tourist allowance, it is necessary to either bring your own car into Britain or else buy one to take home with you. Although my brother-in-law had a car standing idle, and we were bona-fide tourists, we could not get an allowance to drive in his car.

However gasoline rationing is to be relaxed in June.

It looks to an outsider, as if rationing has been retained over long and when we arrived we noticed a tremendous agitation to ENGLISH JOURNEY Continued relax restrictions on certain articles, notably shoes, dry goods, and clothes. It was reliably reported that warehouses were bulging with merchandise that people have no coupons to buy.

It has been announced that restrictions on clothing are being reduced on May 11th.

There is more fresh fruit available, but bananas are only sold on allotment and are only sold for children.

The days when eggs were obtainable at about one egg a month seem to be over, and while still not plentiful, are obtainable in small quantities. This we were told, is a seasonable condition.

The meat ration is pitifully small. Our hosts last week brought their week's allowance of meat, for the whole family and ourselves, and we ate it all at one meal. It was a small roast of about two pounds. We are told that most people do the same thing, as it is foolish to try and spread it over several meals.

Bacon allowance is two ounces per person per week which is only about two small slices.

While the above would tend to show that there is not much to eat in England today, the fact is that everybody gets plenty to eat. The English still eat at least four times a day, for no one seems to be able to dispense with afternoon tea at about 4:30 p.m.

But the real trouble to them is too much monotony about the meals, which are too starchy. There is too much bread, plain cake and vegetables and not enough variety.

I have been staying at the homes of relatives all the time I have been in England, but have eaten some lunches, dinners or teas at hotels.

In all the homes, the housewives complain that it is extremely difficult to make appetising dishes out of the same ingredients day after day.

In the hotels and restaurants the average meal consists of a thick soup, which seems to be made with some starchy powder; a woefully small piece of mutton; beef or fish, or a meat pie made of ground-up meat, and an overly large helping of potatoes, and some kind of vegetable, usually cabbage, cauliflower, or greens; and a dessert usually made of some kind of cake or steamed pudding, with a custard sauce. Tea or coffee is not included with the meal, but may be purchased separately.

Chicken is not rationed but is extremely scarce and very expensive, so it is seldom seen.

Therefore the best things for Canadians to include in parcels to friends or relatives in England are canned chicken, pork products, salmon, or other fish, sugar, cheese, raisins or currents (which are absolutely unobtainable) jams and jellies in tins. Butter arrives in excellent condition if packed in air tight tins.

Second-hand clothes in good condition also are welcomed and very few people are too proud or fastidious not to be happy to wear discarded clothes received from friends in Canada, provided of course that they are in fairly good condition.

Soap is also welcomed as the soap allowance is only 3 oz. a week of all kinds, and the quality is poor.

A Good Spank

(From Printed Word)

In many homes today, the sound of breaking glass and the sad sight of spoiled slip-covers and broken furniture are cheerfully ignored by deluded parents who have been carried away by child psychology. Junior is not going to be inhibited. It appears that enlightened parents don't say "don't!"

but let Junior's natural tendency to destroy be dissipated in childhood, so that he will be charmingly well adjusted on maturity. Junior will never be mature. He will always be just what he is.

You get burnt playing with fire, and knifing your neighbor is followed swiftly by hanging, so it seems only fitting and proper that general devilment around the house and neighborhood, should involve getting smacked, quickly, inevitably, and hard.

A flurry of queer thinking—along with a good deal of indifference and neglect—has appeared in place of discipline. Good ridance to the birch rod, but parents have hands, and even the most difficult, complex little hoodlum has a place for a good spank.

Army mine detectors have been used successfully in Ontario in locating hidden loot.
